ACADEMY MUSEUM OF MOTION PICTURES

opening on December 14, 2020

Mark your calendars for the opening of the newest museum coming to Tinseltown! The Academy Museum of Motion Pictures will celebrate the art and science of movies—past, present, and future. Its exhibitions and programs will convey the magic of cinema and offer a glimpse behind the screen, illuminating the creative and collaborative process of filmmaking. The Academy Museum will display film-related objects and technology of the unparalleled collection of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts & Sciences. The exhibits will contain a vast range of works on paper, still and moving images covering the history of motion picture in the United States as well as throughout the world. More information is coming this Fall. Call us to get on the list to be one of the first groups to see this new amazing museum!
