

ANNE FRANK EXHIBIT AT

with Lunch at the Museum Café

Recipient of the Global Peace and Tolerance Award from the Friends of the United Nations, the Museum of Tolerance is dedicated to challenging visitors to understand the Holocaust in both historic and contemporary contexts and confront all forms of prejudice and discrimination in our world today. When you first arrive at the museum, you'll enjoy lunch at the Museum Café before embarking on a tour. The Los Angeles Times has described the Museum of Tolerance as "a high-tech walk down the corridors of bigotry." It's a one-of-a-kind educational and interactive experience focused on two central themes: the dynamics of racism and tolerance, and the story of the Holocaust. In the Holocaust section of the museum, visitors enter a darkened area and are asked to be witnesses -- as if brought back to the scene of the crime -- in a tour that concludes in the Hall of Testimony where you'll hear Holocaust survivors tell their unforgettable stories of courage and sacrifice. Also included in your visit to the museum is the extraordinary new Anne Frank exhibit. Anne's story, told in her own words, comes to life through rare artifacts, unique documents, and photographs. Visitors view a facsimile of her famous diary and several other examples of her original writing that culminated in what has become one of the most famous and well-read books ever. The Anne exhibit highlights little known facts about her time in hiding and the events that led to her arrest. Hear first-hand accounts about Anne from the people who knew her, and experience the story of Anne Frank as never before.

Available Sunday through Friday.

Tour departs at 11:00am.
The return time is 6:00pm.
