

Casa Romantica and the Stanley Ranch Museum

with Lunch at King's Fish House

This lovely day out in Orange County begins with a visit to the STANLEY RANCH MUSEUM in Garden Grove. In 1970, Agnes Stanley donated the last two acres of her ranch to the Garden Grove Historical Society which has been saving old historic buildings from destruction and moving them to the ranch. A visit to the Stanley Ranch is a look into the past. Buildings on the site include the original Garden Grove fire station, the Stanley Ranch house, several Queen Anne cottages, a barber shop and a 1932 garage which was once used by Walt Disney to start his animation company. After your docent-led tour of the ranch, you're off to Laguna Hills for LUNCH AT KING'S FISH HOUSE. Known for its fresh fish and seafood, dining at King's is always a treat. After lunch, you'll continue traveling south to San Clemente. Co-founder of this seaside city, Ole Hanson, came to the site to create his ideal community, a "Spanish Village by the Sea." In 1927, Hanson built the CASA ROMANTICA as his family home, an expression of his version of the California dream. The seven-bedroom, seven-bath house was designed by Carl Lindbom, who also designed La Casa Pacifica (the former Western White House). You'll be led on a tour of the beautiful estate including the Casa Gardens which comprise a series of garden rooms, each with their unique horticultural features and appeal. It's a beautiful way to spend the day!
