The Roaring 20's

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 2024

Join us on a journey through time to the exhilarating era of the 1920s in Los Angeles, a decade of growth, prosperity, and artistic expression. This tour is an unforgettable experience that brings to life the roaring twenties, highlighting the iconic sites that shaped the city's history and identity.

We begin our adventure at the stunning 1923 Angelus Temple, home to the legendary evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson. The docent-led tour of the restored temple offers an exclusive opportunity to explore its magnificent architecture and learn about its fascinating history.

Our next stop is the magnificent Central Library, built in 1926. The library's unique blend of Spanish, Roman, Egyptian, and Art Deco styles is a testament to the cultural and artistic influences of the era. A visit here is a journey back in time, to a world of literary elegance and sophistication.

We will then make our way to the Biltmore Hotel, a landmark that represented the arrival of Los Angeles as an American metropolis. The Rendezvous Court, with its Moorish-carved wood ceilings and gold-leaf accents, is a stunning sight to behold. Dine on light sandwiches, salads, and specialty coffees and teas in this exquisite setting that has been featured in countless movies and television shows.

Our last stop is the Los Angeles City Hall, completed in 1928. Standing tall with its three-tiered form, the building embodies the energy and ambition of its day. Head up to the 27th-floor observation deck for breathtaking views of the city skyline. Los Angeles City Hall stands as a monument to the era of its creation, and its preservation is a testament to architectural excellence.

Join us on this unique tour that brings the 1920s to life through the lens of Los Angeles history.
